

Martin Luther King Walking Weekend 2023 is just around the corner and we are getting ready.

The event hotel is set. It is the same one we had set for last year's MLK before we had to postpone it. But it is even better this year. The hotel is under new management and the problems they had last year with taking reservations have been resolved. Just call the main number and request our group rate. You can also request an email confirmation.
